

Biography for Alexander Aronsohn FRICS

Alexander Aronsohn FRICS is a Chartered Surveyor with long and wide ranging experience encompassing residential asset management, commercial and residential development, rating, national and international valuation and investment. He has worked as a property professional for over twenty years in a number of different specialisms, including at DTZ where he became an associate director in both their international valuation and international investment teams, focussing on cross border portfolio valuation and investment. He has also run his own consultancy firm which provided international valuation and investment advice to a number of high profile clients and surveying firms. Alexander joined RICS in 2011 and is the RICS Director of Technical Standards and currently sits on the various valuation boards, working groups and task forces panels. He is involved in shaping policy and best practice within this area through his work on International Valuation Standards and is the IVSC Technical Director of Real Estate Standards and assisted the IVSC Standards Board on drafting IVS 2017. Alexander is also the Executive Secretary of the IPMS Standard Setting Committee (SSC), which comprise a team of 18 global experts that are drafting the International Property Measurement Standards for Offices, Residential, Industrial, Retail and Mixed Use Buildings. Alexander is also the Executive Secretary of the IESC Standard Setting Committee (SSC), ILMS Standard Setting Committee (SSC) and a member of the ICMS Standard Setting Committee (SSC).